OUTLINE OF PRINCIPLES OF ORDER AND QUALIFICATIONS
FOR MEMBERSHIP

The Royal Order of Lions is a patriotic body of men banded together to comfort one another in the practice of true Protestantism, Justice, Americanism, and Real Fraternalism, the goal being genuine "100% Protestant Co-operation," to exercise full tolerance and charity toward all men, to practice benevolence and to maintain a universal Protestant Fraternity.

Non-partisan, Non-sectarian, embodying hundreds of thousands of members throughout the United States, membership being confined to white Gentile Protestant American citizens, sound in mind and body, being law-abiding citizens in the community in which they live.

Benevolent, paying sick, accident and funeral benefits.

Social; Fraternal, Educational, Protective, moral and financial benefits, Band, baseball club and Uniform Drill team in each Den.

We have already identified with our several hundred organizations throughout America some of the brightest, and most intelligent men of the present day. We want to join our ranks men who crave "DISTINGUISHED SERVICE", whom we can welcome to our homes and introduce to our families, men who will be companions to us in the fullest sense of the word sharing one another's sorrows and exulting in one another's joys.

The Lions' CO-OPERATIVE TRADE PLAN saves each member many times more than the annual dues. The Trade Cards are issued from the Supreme Den to all members of subordinate dens. Monthly dues paid to the local secretary orders Trade Cards for his members as soon as the first quarterly dues are received. Trade cards are good for the discounts specified on them in any city with merchants or professional members, when presented by a member or any member of his family.

The Merchant Member is not only insured his pro-rata part of the business from the members of his den, but from many other dens as well. The insignia upon his window brings many new customers. In short, The Lions' Co-operative Trade Plan gives the member cash customers, and the Trade Card member cash discounts. Thus, you see, by co-operation everybody wins in the Royal Order of Lions

LOSAKO

"When You Pass Through the Jungle, Break a Twig, That the Next Man May Find the Way."

Our Creed

We, as members of the Royal Order of Lions, believe in the sovereignty of God, the rights of man and a single standard of morality. We believe in 100 per cent Americanism; in Constitutional Government, the enforcement of law; limitation of immigration and the Americanization of immigrants; conservation of our national resources; prohibition of waste; preparedness for defense; international arbitration and peace consistent with honor.

We believe our public school system should be preserved and in the establishment of college and vocational schools; centers for the study of music, art and nature; the establishment of public libraries; circles for works of charity and moral uplift so necessary to health and happiness; playgrounds for children; attractive homes and wholesome amusements; public parks; improved streets and national highways.

We believe in a better understanding between capital and labor; safe and sanitary work shops; honest and faithful service in private and public life; in an endeavor to prohibit child labor and prevent poverty; assisting in the promotion of thrift and industrial justice; with opportunity for all and special privileges to none and in the practice of the Golden Rule.

We believe in the tenets of the Protestant Christian Religion which evolves separation of church and state; free sane speech and free judicious press; with equal religious rights and privileges to all.

We furthermore believe it our duty as American citizens to be diligent in the study of public issues; alert to public welfare; and to vote at every election; to oppose the appropriation of public money for sectarian purposes; to support a non-sectarian presentation of the English Bible in the public schools and assist in establishing a NATIONAL PROTESTANT NEWS SERVICE; to respect the American Sabbath and legal holidays; to support and serve our country in peace as in war and to be loyal unto death to the above principles, which are so essential to the public welfare and the perpetuity of our American institutions and our flag.
